This band was especially brought from Buda Pest by Carl Biringer, and was under the direction of Danko Gabor, leader. The band, which was an exceptionally good one, numbering forty musicians, were placed on the stairs, garian costumes were in pleasing contrast with the floral decorations. The Vanderbilt March, especially composed for the occasion by an intimate friend of Mrs. Vanderbilt, was played several times during the breakfast, and as the bride and groom led the way into the dining-room Mendelssohn's Wedding March was played.

The musical programme was: Wedding march, Selesange; overture, "If I Were King," from Adam's opera; overture from "Martha," Flotow; "Carman Potgrousie," Pinot; overture, "William Tell." Rossini; "The Kaiser Waltz," Stratuss; waltz, "Long Live the Dance," from Waldteufel; waltz, "Goldfaden," from Waldteufel; waltz, "La Parle de Madrid," from Lavotte; intermezzo, "Cavallera Rusticana," Maschene; march, "Niepelunton," Wagner, and as the bride and groom were leaving the house the band played "The Vanderbilt March." garian costumes were in pleasing

THE DUKE OF MARLBOROUGH.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—A special to the star from Louisville, Ky., says that Harlin concedes the election of Bradley, and hat the Republicans olsim the Legislature, which would defeat Senator Blackburn.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 6.—All returns received up to moon show Bradley's majority is growing. He claims the State by 15,000. The probabilities are that he is elected by from 8,000 to 12,000.

The Legislature may be Republican, but the hold-over senators will save the Democrats on joint ballot.

LOUISVILLE, Ry., Nov. 6.—A special to the Post from Harrodsburg, Ky., says: Gen., lardin, who is at his brother's home in his city, concedes Bradley's election from sturns received. He takes his defeat cheerally and says he did his whole duty. It is robable that he will open a law office in ther Louisville, Frankfort or Lexington.

The Women Won.

Special to The Post-Dispaten.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Nov. 6.—The wemen won in the Board of Education election. They were given separate booths and women officers conducted the election separate from the regular election for State and other officers. They did not get to the polisuntil nearly 8 o'clock, but the Kentucky gallantry to women prevented any disorderly scenes from taking place, and, as are man stated, the women conducted their election more like a reception than a battle of the ballots.

Democrats and Republicans had both agreed to allow the ladjes to have no opposition in their efforts to lift the public schools of Lexington out of politics, but a few days ago, the Democratic committee put out a full ticket against them, and it was defeated. lal to The Post Dispatch.

HADLEY DEFEATED LANE.

The Republican Candidate Won in the Eighteenth Illinois District.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 6.-Returns re ceived here at the headquarters of the State committees show that W. F. L. Hadley, Republican candidate for Congress from the Eighteenth Illinois District, has carried all six counties, defeating Edward Lane (Dem.) by 3,200 plurality. This plurality by counties is as follows:

A light vote and Republican majorities are reported from Alton, which gives Hadley (Rep.), 871. Lane (Dem.), 832. A Republican loss of him than in 1886, when he was elected State Senator and ran ahead of his ticket.

A light vote and Republican majorities are reported from Alton, which gives Hadley (Rep.), 867. Lane (Dem.), 832. A Republican loss of 145. North Alton gives Hadley a plurality of 43. Republican losses under 1894 are shown in surrounding townships with the exception of Woodriver, which gives a Republican gain of 33 votes.

Special to The Post-Dispatch. SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 6.—William H. Hinrichsen, Chairman of the State Demo-Hintensen, Chairman of the State Demo-cratic Central Committee, said: "I don't know what did it. Democrats falled to get to the poils and were luke-warm." Gov. Altgeld would say nothing other than: "We are beaten and pretty badly. It was a Republican day. Don't know what effect it will have on the 1896 election." United. States Senator John M. Palmer: "It was too soon for free silver. Democrats don't want it and won't have it. We learn our party lesson for 1896, which we should profit by. Free silver in Illinois is a dead duck."

Plurality Piling Up.

Special to The Post-Dispatch.

EDWARDSVILLE, Ill., Nov. 6.—Hadley's majority over Lane in Madison County will-reach 1,800. This is the estimate, with two towns to hear from. His plurality in the district is estimated by Democratic authorate about 3,500.

The Torrens Land Law.

The Torrens Land Law.

CHICAGO, Ill., Nov. 6.—The Torrens land bill has been carried by a majority in the county of 71,257. The vote in the city for it was 75,319 and against it only 4,857. The county towns were fully as strong for the measure.

Louis A. Seeberger of the Real Estate Board Committee, which was charged with the campaign for the enactment of the law and its submission to the people, was enthusiastic over the victory.

"It was the greatest fight the board ever made, and we think it has accomplished a result which will be of the greatest benefit to the whole county. In effect this law uts realty in the category of quick assets, hereas it has been an exceedingly slow et in the past. phirality in New York City of a little over 40,000.

There are two notable personal results. Amos J. Cummings goes back to Congress for his fifth term, having carried the Tenth District at a special election to-day by 8,000 or more. Ex-Inagicator Williams, the so-called "clubber" of the Police Department, obtained a Republican nomination for the State Senate and is beaten.

The vote of the Independent County Democratic organization was considerably below 10,000, and the Good Government ticket vote will scarcely reach 1,000. The Socialists polled more than 8,000, which makes them the third party in this city.

The State majorities for all Republican candidates are in excess of any figures thought of by leaders of any party.

David B. Hill will not go back to the Senate at Washington, unless the Democratic should elect a big enough majority in the Assembly maty year to overcome the Republican majority in the State Senate on joint ballot.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 6.—Gen. Asa Bushnell, Republican candidate for Governor, defeats Campbell (Dem.), by over 100,000 votes. The Legislature will be Republican on Joint ballot, insuring the election of Gen. Foraker to the United States Senate to succeed Brice. McKinley's plurality two years ago was 80,000. Brough's during the war was lon,000. The 187,000 plurality of last year was largely due to Democratic apathy. But this year the conditions have been different, and the Democrats have brought to their aid all the influence of the National Administration, combined with the desire to maintain their representation in the United States Senate.

CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 6.—The plurality for Bushnell (Rep.) for Governor in Hamilton County, with one precinct will increase this to over 12,000. One-or two other candidates run up to 13,000.

UTAH.

SALT LAKE, Utah, Nov. 6.—This morning the Tribune has returns from 102 precincts outside of the city on the vote for Governor, showing a net Republican gain of 90, compared with last year's vote for delégate to Congress, when the Republicans had a majority of 1,800.

The Democratic State Committee has received returns from 108 precincts, including a portion of the city, showing a net Democratic gain of 877, compared with the vote of last year for University Land Commissioners, when the Republican majority was 2,088. SALT LAKE. Utah, Nov. 6,—The Tribune's extra edition gives returns from 145 voting precincts as follows:
For Governor—Wells (Rep.) 13,028; Caine
(Dem.), 11,850; net Republican gain, 1,017.
The same precincts last year gave Cannon
(Rep.) 13,213. Rawlins (Dem.) 12,062. The same precincts give Allen for Congress a majority of 886. In this judicial district indications point to the defeating of all Republican nominees. The Legislature will be Republican.

MASSACHUSETTS.

BOSTON, Mass., Nov. 6.—Frederick T. Greenhalge, Rep., is elected Governor over George F. Williams, Dem., by a majority which will exceed 70,000, as against 65,000 last year. Williams carries Boston by 2,200, a Democratic loss of 1,100 votes. There was a Democratic-loss of 1,100 votes. There was a slight falling off in the total vote, with 5 per cent gains for Republicans, and 2 per cent losses for Democrats. Greenhalge carried the City of Fall River by a small majority.

BOSTON, Mass., Nov. 6.—The complexion of the Massachusetts Legislature is: Senata, 33 Republicans, 7 Democrats: Democratic gain of one. House of Representatives, 184 Republicans, 55 Democrats; Democratic gain of 8.

COLOBADO.

DENVER, Colo., Nov. 6.—Party lines were not closely drawn in the Colorado County elections, but the Republicans claim to have made gains outside of Denver. In this (Arapahoe) county the election was very close, the result being still in doubt as to two offices. The candidates on the tax-payers' tloket (Gen. Frank Hall for treasurer and William L. Ames for assessor) appear on the returns so far received to have been certainly elected. The Republicans probably hold all the other offices. The result is regarded as a defeat of the Tramway Company and the Denver Union Water Company, which fought Ames bitterly on account of his efforts as an alderman to sequire a reduction on water rates.

DES MOINES, Io., Nov. s.—The Republican State Central Committee claims the State by 80,000 or over. The committee also claims the Legislature by two-thirds majority. The pregent indications are that the Populists will make large rains all over the State, making their total vote 80,000, the largest ever poiled in the State. The Republican votes show no special loss, the losses to Populism-being almost uniformly from the Democrate.

Drakes, Rep., for Governor, defeats Babb, Dem. At the last election in 1894 the Republicans carried the State by 78,596.

The Legislature will choose a schator to succeed Wm. B. Allison.

NEW JERSEY.

TRENTON N. J., Nov. 6.—New Jersey is Republican by 20,822 plurality. Griggs (Rep.) is elected Governor, defeating McGill (Dem.) Of the seven Senators voted for, five Republicans and one Democrat were elected, one being still in doubt. Of the sixty Assemblymen elected forty are Republican, thirteen Democrats and seven still indoubt. If Bergen County, which is reported to be in doubt, has been carried by the Republicans, as is problematic, the new Jenats will stand sighteen Republicans and fourteen Democrats.

Griggs' estimated plurality is 24,300.

NEBRASKA.

OMAHA, Neb., Nov. 6.—Returns from the State are not complete, but they are sufficient to show surprising strength in the administration Democracy or hard meney wing of the party. Mahoney, for Supreme Judge, will probably have three times the vote of the silver candidate. The Republican State ticket is elected, but no will be state ticket is elected, but no will be strength as abnormally great. heavier than was anticipated. The vote polled does not represent the full number by probably 20,000, owing to the indifference incident to the certainty of Republican vic-tory and inclement weather in many parts of the State.

PENNSYLVANIA.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Nov. 6.—Pennsylvania is Republican by probably 150,000.

IN "COOK COUNTY, CHICAGO.

The Land Slid and Smothered the Democrats of That Section. CHICAGO, Nov. 6.-The election in Cook county (Chicago), yesterday, proves to have seen a Republican landslide, the candidates been a Republican landslide, the candidates of that party being chosen by majorities ranging from $1,000 to $8,000. The election was for the Jusiges of the Superior Court and nine trustees for the $30,000,000 drainage canal, which is to connect Lake Michigan and the Illinois River. As these trustees are voted for on the cumulative plan, each of the parties nominated five candidates, it being agreed that the one receiving the smallest number of votes on either side should be out. Under this arrangement the Republicans elected five and the Democrats four of the trustees.

The Republican candidates for Judge were also chosen by large majorities and the vote in favor of the Torrens land title system was nearly unanimous. The vote for the candidates nominated by the People's and Socialist parties was very small.

REFORMER FAIRCHILD. Why He Failed to Vote the Ticket He Helped to Make.

Special to The Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—Charles S. Fair Special to The Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—Charles S. Fairchild, the great State Democracy chief and eminent reformer, did not vote for the fusion ticket. There was a good reason for this neglect on his part. He failed to register as an elector. All during the campaign Mr. Fairchild had been conspicuous on the stump for his frantic appeals to voters not to neglect registering. In fact, he had been so very busy urging others to register that he quite forgot to do so himself. He said that citizens who did not qualify as electors ought to be ashamed of themselves. The Tigers are laughing over Fairchild's failure to vote.

EX-Police Inspector Alexander S. Williams took his defeat as a candidate for a State senatorship very calmly. He waited in Chief Conlin's office in police headquarters until the result was definitely known, and then quietly lighted a fresh cigar and went home.

"The people are simply tired of a certain kind of reform," said Mr. Williams, "and the result of this election is an expression of their approval. When an East Side shop-keeper is arrested on a Sunday morning for selling a loaf of bread, he is not going to support the party that brought this about or that is responsible for it.

"As the State has gone Republican, the victory in New York will not, of course, effect the hoped for boon of local option, but the mass of voters in New York did not look at that. They voted as they felt."

GARFIELD'S BIG PLUBALITY. Election of the Late President's Son as

Ohio's State Senator. AKRON O Nov. 6-James R. Garfield. an of the late President, was elected State Senator from the Twenty-fourth and Twenty-sixth districts by an enormous plurality. The district is normally Republican by 10,000, but he has carried it by over 14,000. Running with him on the Republican ticket was Whittlesey, who has been State Senator for several years. Garfield's plurality is was Whittlesey, who has been State Senator for several years. Garfield's plurality is greater than his by 2,000. The district which he will represent is almost identically the same as when his father was first chosen in 1857 to the office. A remarkable coincidence was that Garfield was nominated on July 2, the fourteenth anniversary of his father's assessination. He is a graduate of the Columbian law school of New York, and for seven years has practiced law in Cleveland. He lived in Mentor.

Holmes came here, no one knows from where, and opened flashy offices in the Odd Fellows' Building. His victims were Sunday-schools and religious societies. Among others, Mr. Hansman says, Holmes defrauded Breckinridge Jones, Perrin & Smith, Gast Lithograph Co., James B. Legg and others.

He was a remarkably oily-tongued fellow, put on a religious air and disappeared as suddenly as he came.

Jules Sarconda was arrested by a Deputy Sheriff from Carlyle, Ill., as he stopped out Sheriff from Carlyle, Ill., as he stepped out of the Court of Criminal Correction after being discharged on a hearing for embesslement from the Jesse French Plano Co. He agreed to go to Illinois without a requisition. On the way to the station the deputy got full as a goat and escaped from his prisoner. Sarconda located his captor on a bench in the midway in a state of alcoholic coma. He relieved him of his satchel and brought it back to the Four Courts for safe-keeping.

This action of the company grows out of its trouble with the city over the erection the fact that it practically destroyed the

When Street Commissioner Milner learned of the company's action he was deeply disgusted.

"Well, how is that for a piece of spite work?" he said. "It will cost the company more to tear that addition down than the material is worth, but just to injure the city they go ahead and do it. They should at least have given the city an opportunity to purchase the addition, but they commenced tearing it down without any previous notice just because they were not allowed to turn North Broadway into a tunnel for the company's benefit. That company deserves no favors from the city. It has got everything for nothing and this is the way it acts in return."

Mr. Milner will make an attempt to stop the wrecking of the bridge by legal means. He sent for Assistant City Counselor Allen and asked for an opinion as to whether the could not reply without first investigating the matter and advised Mr. Milner to conversant with all the points involved.

Mr. Marshall did not arrive at his office until after noon Wednesday apd Mr. Milner was unable to have a consultation with him until late in the afternoon. If possible the Terminal Railwaw Company will be enjoined from proceeding with the work of wrecking the bridge.

Boiler Explosion Causes Detroit Journal Building to Collapse,

RESCUING THE VICTIMS.

Fire Breaks Out Shortly After the Fall, Adding Its Horror to the Catastrophe.

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 6.-At about O'clock this morning the boilers of the Journal building, at the corner of Larned and Shelby streets, exploded with terrific force. A portion of the building, about forty wide, immediately collapsed, burying ployed in the building. The employes of the editorial department of the Journal are all reported to be saved. There were scores of persons in the wrecked portion of the building.

Shortly after 9 o'clock the ruins broke out in flames, and the great clouds of stifling smoke seriously impeded the firemen in their work of rescue.

It is positively known that at the time of the collapse the stereotypers engaged on the fifth floor were: Michael Ward, Arthur Lynch and James Ross. All three of them went down in the wreck.

In the third story was the Habbin Electrotype foundry, in which there were some half dozen men.

In the top story was the Journal's stereotyping department, where four or five men were busy.

As near as can be learned there were twenty-five or thirty at work in the building, exclusive of those who may have been injured while passing on the street. Three men and one woman were carried into the News office in a helpless condition within three minutes after the terrible explosion. Cries of others could be heard in the ruins, but the confusion was too great to secure details.

The people who were brought into the News office were: Martin Meyer, advertising solicitor of the Evening News; badly cut in neck and head; R. H. Foye, advertising solicitor on the first floor was occupied by the Journal's mailing department, About five men and boys were there at work.

In the second story was George Hiller's book bindery, in which a couple of men and about a score of girls were employed. All of these people, men, boys and girls, were precipitated into the horrible chaos of ruin and escaping steam.

The Fire Department was summoned at once, and with the aid of many persons who were attracted to the spot at once began the work of rescuing the poor victims. The John Davis Co., dealers in grocers' sundries, occupied the ground floor and basement of one end of the building. The firm's list of employes is not large, but it is doubtful whether all escaped. The gap in the building extends through about half of the Davis girls as they fell and were pinioned in the wreck.

The Habbin Type Foundry, on the third floor, and the Journal's stereotyping department on the fifth floor each contributed human victims to the wreck.

The members of the editorial staff on the fourth floor, however, all escaped.

Many men are scrambling in the bricks and debris, but the fire which is burning underneath makes it probable that some of the bodies at least will be incinerated.

Wm. Livingston, manager of the Journal, said: "The bollers, aithough used as part of the Journal plant, were not part of it. In the Journal's lease of its building from the Newberry estate, power was to be furnished and the power under the contract was taken from the Newberry boilers.

The two boilers were looked over casually by an outside engineer only Saturday. He says they were each about 14 feet long and 50 inches in diameter and of the tubular pattern.

About fifteen minutes after the explosion

50 inches in diameter and of the tubular pat-tern.

About fifteen minutes after the explosion those standing at the east side of the wrecked building saw a movement in the rubbish. A hand appeared, followed by an arm, and helpers ran to the rescue. A moment later John M. Vinter, an em-loye of John Davis' spice and mustard mills, was dragged out.

Arthur D. Lynch, one of the Journal stereotypers, was taken from the ruins con-scious and is not seriously hurt. Several others were later rescued with but slight injuries.

stereotypers, was taken from the ruins conscious and is not seriously hurt. Several others were later rescued with but slight injuries.

H. C. Kohlbrandt, owner of the Kohlbrandt Engraving Co., whose rooms were on the third floor, said at 11 o'clock that two boys, each about 16 years old, who worked for him, were in the wreck. They are John Bowman and Henry Welch. They were the only persons at work for him to-day. Those known to be injured thus far are: CORNELIUS GEORGE, foreman Journal mailing room.

A body supposed to be that of William Duniap was dragged out about the same time. Duniap ran a small ranchine shop in the building, his business being repairing of typesetting machines.

As yet the cause of the explosion is a mystery. Thomas Thompson, the engineer, came out of the wreck painfully injured. His, clothes were all tors off, and blood was running from a score of outs. He said he knew no reason for the explosion, and was too excited to talk coherently. The work of delving into the ruins progresses slowly.

M. Jacobs, a paper dealer, who had just left Hiller's bindery when the explosion occurred, says there were fully twenty employes in the bindery.

The Evening News finds it impossible to furnish a list of killed and injured, but meanwhile is collecting a list of those who were in the wrecked part of the building.

Up to 11:30 three deed bodies had been taken from the ruins, two men and a girl, all unidentified. There are three injured at Emergency Hospital, four at Harper and one at Grace. At least two of the injured will probably die.

age, and up to a few weeks ago he had not learned the indelicacy of interfering in the domestic infelicities of man and wife. The chances are that he now thoroughly understands this axiom of life. If he does not, his perceptive facilities are more obtuse than his appearance betokens or his friends give him credit for.

Williams is a carpenter and lives at 1922 Franklin avenue. Next door live Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Soott, who run a furniture store. They were all in Judge Stephenson's court next morning with Williams as the defendant, and this is how it came about:

On Oct. 15 Scott and his wife had a quarrel in their store and Williams rushed in to prevent bloodshed—that is, he intended to iprevent any blood from flowing from Scott or his wife, and in this he was successful; but he, himself, did not get off so easily. In fact, he woke up in an ambuliance on the way to the City Dispensary.

Williams then forgot all about his reputation as a peacemaker being at stake and swore out a warrant against Scott, who was convicted and fined filo. This of course made the entire Scott family sore against the Williamse and while Mr. Scott was trying to raise the filo to keep from being a witness to the brutality at the Work-house, Mrs. Scott was busily engaged in wondering how to get even with Mr. Williams, not thinking that she and her husband had gotten filo worth of fun out of the beating. Mrs. Scott was in too great a hurry to wait juries and so she had him arrested on a charge of disturbing her peace.

The case came up in the Second District Court Wednesday morning, but both sides had quite a number of witnesses. The witnesses for Mrs. Scott were sure they heard Williams call her names out on the street, but Col. John I. Martin, for the defense, proved that Williams had not left his house on the morning in question.

Mrs. Ann Edwards, 80 years old, was a witness for the defense to prove this point. "What was Mr. Williams physical condition?" asked Col. Martin.

"He was reading a paper," was the old lady's response.

If they receive an encouraging repsonse today they will give the enterprise their official sanction by accepting proferred offices in the association having it in charge.

The ruins were torn down, and the deep cellar remained an eyesore to the public. Various plans were proposed for the improvement of the property. It has been decided to erect a seven-story mercantile building, to cover the entire half block, at a cost of $400,000.

Architects Shepley, Rootan & Coolide, have drawn the plans for the proposed structure. Mr. Rootan is expected from Boston to draw up the specifications. There is nothing to delay the immediate erection of the building. Thanges will be made to suit tenant. Mr. Turner expects to close the deal before the structure is completed.

passed with but one dissenting vote—Mr. Hagan.

Mr. Clark withdrew his amendment relieving the Southern Electric Railway Co. of the obligation to extend its tracks within two years. This was probably due to the Mayor's refusal to sign the permit for the use of the bridge over the River des Peres until the company ceased its efforts to evade its obligations to the city.

The bill allowing the St. Louis Merchants' Bridge & Terminal Railway Co. to construct tracks on Main street was passed. It was expected that the House Committee on Ways and Means would refer the paravel appropriation bill back to the House, but is was not done. # MISS WALLIS' SIDE.

Declares It Absurd to Think Her Jealous of Miss Wickes.

Miss Gladys Wallis was not in a pleasant frame of mind after she had read in Tues day's Post-Dispatch what Miss Florence Wickes had to say about their relations in the company and she did not hesitate to pitch into the latter young woman.

pitch into the latter young woman.

"Why, I was surprised," said the winsome little actress, "to see that Miss Wickes had given out such a story to the newspapers, and, although I knew, of course, that she was very angry, I did not think that she would make any such utterly absurd statements. I say absurd and everybody who has seen the play and the part Miss Wickes takes in it will know that is the only word that can be used. You see all young actresses like Miss Wickes, and new to the profession as she is, have an idea that the star is always jealous of their acting and when any trouble comes up between the star and the "rising young actress" the first thing that anyone says is "jealousy," and then shake their heads and think that one word govers the whole story."

"Miss Wickes told the truth when she said that I had corrected her for laughing during one of the serious parts, but she would not have talked back to me the way she did had she not known that we were dissatisfied with her acting and that she would be given her notice in a day or two. The scene between Miss Wickes and myself in my dressing room only brought about her discharge a little soone."

"I knew St. Louis was Miss Wickes' home and as she was of course, very anx-

THE LESSON OF THE ELECTIONS.

Testerday's elections make it plain that under the present leadership of the two parties and with the issues that have been forced to the front, the country is overwhelmingly Republican. And properly so. The Democrats have not only stolen the clothing of the Republicans. but have exaggerated the styles. Sherman has been set up as the natron saint of Democracy in place of Jefferson and Jackson, and it was to be expected that if the people are to worship at the shrine of Sherman, they would prefer to do it in the temples which the Republicans have erected to Plutocracy and its fetich. This public rejoicing of the Democratic Senator over the defeat of a Democratic candidate for Congress in his own State, because he holds different views on the money question, clearly shows in what direction the influence of Senator Palmer and his gold-standard friends was exercised in the campaign. It shows also the lengths to which the agents of Wall Street in the Democratic party will go to force the organization to surrender to their plutocratic demands.

But Senator Palmer has at least the merit of frankness in his efforts to defeat Democrats who favor Democratic bietallism. It is a pity that the same redeeming trait cannot be credited to Wm. Morrison, to whose powerful, but insidious, influence in his old district must be charged much of the disaffection in Democratic ranks with which Mr. Lane had to contend."

But making full allowance for losses chargeable to Morrison and the Administration wing of the party, a great part of Hadley's majority was due to the skillful underground work of Republican co ruptionists. As the performance progressed the audience grew warmer, and when the curtain fell on the final scene the entire cast was given an ovation. Mma. Alice L. Hamilton Has Stolen Goods Worth Thousands.

SAYS SHE HAS KLEPTOMANTA

Her Empleyer, Her Relatives, Her Sweetheart and Her Fellow-Church Members Accept That Theory.

An unmarried woman, young, of attractive person, a member of the Baptist Church and with no previous stain on her eputation is imprisoned at the Four Courts is a thief.

The proof against her is clear; she has confessed that the charges are correct and the police have in their possession several thousand dollars' worth of hardsome goods stolen by her from various dry goods.

Alice L. Hamilton is the prisoner's name. She has been employed for five years by the Transit Coal Co. as a stenographer and typewriter and she lived with her sister, Mrs. John McNichols, at 2817 N. Eleventh street. She was arrested late Tuesday afternoon for stealing a handsome for was ernoon for stealing a handsome fur wrap rom Scruggs, Vandervoort & Barney. The arrest and exposure of Miss Hamilton from Scruggs, Vandervoort a batter.

The arrest and exposure of Miss Hamilton clears up a mystery that has seriously annoyed the leading dry goods houses of St. Louis for many months and reduced their profits to some extent. In the big marts of fashion evidences that a shrewd and dextrous their was preying on them have been noticeable for a considerable time. The arrest of two shoplifters in the Third Police District about three months ago was thought at first to furnish a clew to the identity of the thief, but it developed that those women devoted their attention to another class of stores. The thefts continued and detectives were stationed in several fashionable establishments. They caught no one, but the disappearance of handsome articles of apparel went right along. In some of the houses the employes were placed under surveillance, but without result.

Then the purses of customers began to result.

Then the purses of customers began to disappear. A number of ladies complained to the managers of the various stores that they had left their pocket-books on a counter and when they looked for them a moment later they were gone. More efforts were made to detect the thief, but they were as fruitless as the others.

were as fruitiess as the others.

Miss Hamilton confesses that she has systematically followed the pursuit of shop-lifting for a year or more with her typewriting as a side-line, and the conclusion is that she is responsible for nearly all of the heretofore unexplained disappearance of goods and purses from the high-class stores.

The theory advanced by the young woman, adopted unquestioningly by her relatives and half-assented to by the police, is that she is a kieptomaniac, and that stealing was an essential feature of her pursuit of health and happiness. She claims that to "take things" came natural to ser when a child, and that the abstraction of coatly wraps from dry goods stores in her maturity is the natural and unavoidable sequence of the piffering of sets when she was a child, and that her adolescent dishonesty had its origin ir an inherent instinct to steal.

Her relative claim that she has never tion.

One feature of her case that the police think conflicts with this explanation is that in her store of plunder were found about fifty purses. Some of them had been used and in two of them money was found aggregating $40. It is argued from analogy at others of the purses once contained sh. The young woman also admits that

Asked if she did not know all along that she had saved.

Sooner or later she would be discovered, she replied:

Asked if she did not know all along that sooner or later she would be discovered, she repled:

"Oh! I don't know; in fact I never thought of it. I just saw things I wanted and took them regardless of consequences. If I had not been detected I suppose I would have kept on doing the same thing as long as I lived.

"I don't see what good it does to talk about it," she moaned. "They have got me now and it is all over with me. I could not help stealing the things and am more to be pitted than blamed. The police won't look at it that way though, but will send me to prison."

Here she broke into a passionate fit of Miss Hamilton was well known and thought of in North St. Louis. She was an accomplished vocalist and took a prominent part in social gatherings. She also was a tireless worker in the Knights of Honor society and helped organize the lodge to which she belonged, and was one of the first officers.

E. M. Ward, Manager of the Transit Coal Company, for whom Miss Hamilton has been working, was seeh at his office, 108 North Fourth street, by a Post-Dispaten reporter. Mr. Ward said:

"Miss Hamilton has been employed in my office as a stenographer and clerk since September, 1880. She applied in response to an advertisement. She has appeared to be a veritable slave to her duties, worked early and late and was patient and pledding. As to her personal habits and character I only know from my observation of her in the office. I never saw any action that could lead me to suspect her of anything improper. She was of an exceedingly modest and retrings nature, and had the esteem and respect of all in the building with whom she was brought in contact. When Miss Hamilton first entered my employ she declined to work on Sundays, saying the she was trying to lead a life consistent with her church membership. I respected her wishes until a very short time ago, when the business assumed such large proportions it was imperative she should work on Sundays.

"She was very efficient in the discharge of her duties, but I have noticed in the past eighteen months that she seemed for getful at times, and would often seem puzzled over a simple problem. Sylvia and Schiller. The Teutonic turfman has raced here continuously since May II, and although none of his horses captured a stake event, they have won nearly $20,000 in purses and handicaps. Two-thirds of this money was won by 2-year-olds.

Considering that most of his older horses have been useless for the Fair Grounds campaign, Schreiber is astisfied with the showing he made. He leads the winning owners at the Fair Grounds with a good margin to spare. Schreiber will leave for San Francisco Saturday or Sunday. He will race twenty-five head of horses there during the winter racing season.

The string includes Highland, Service, Servitor, Janus, Charireuse, Braw Scott, Jack Richelleu, Doyle, Yemen, Broadhead, Zoolein, Hiram Argo, Red Pike, Globe, Sylvia, Theresta, Felix Carr, Petrson, Laura-F., Minnie, Ida H., two unnamed maiden 2-year-olds and a yearling brother of Barbarossa.

Don Carillo, Schiller, Barbarossa and a ride for Schreiber at Frisco. Felix Carr will go West with the stable and Barney will take his own booking crew with him to the coast.

J. M. Murphy, the St. Louis turiman, won the Tobacco Selling stakes at Latonia Tuesday with his good 5-year-old colt Buck Massie, but the victory was a costly one, as the stake was worth but $1,315 to the winner, and Murphy's horse was run up to $2,100 over his entered price, $1,900. Murphy protected his horse and the victory cost him nearly $700. Bob Tucker, trainer for Millionaire Fleischman, owner of the second horse Lehman, "hoisted" Murphy's horse. Buck Massie went to post at 2 to 1 and better, and Murphy's $1. Louis friends are in hopes that he bet enough to protect him in case of a run-up. Of course Murphy cannot kick when he puts his horse in a selling race at a price far below the animal's real value and then has to stand a run-up, but Fleischman does the same thing frequently, and his object in "hoisting" Buck Massie Tuesday was purely a selfish one.

Fred Foster announced Tuesday that he would reopen the new Sportsman's Park track on the 18th inst, with a free gate, providing, of course, he has to clash with the Fair Grounds. The Fair Association has no idea, just at present, of shutting down. Racing will go on at the big track as long as the good weather continues. The horsemenhave been given this assurance and it is not customary for the Fair Association to break its promises. The paid attendance at the big track is still as good as it ever was, but the receipts from the various privileges show a considerable decrease. The association continues to make money, however, and there is no longer any doubt but that St. Louis is able to support an unlimited season of high-classed racing.

The annual election of the Fair Association will take place in the first week of next month. The stockholders will select a Board of Directors will map out the racing campaign for 1896, Judges and the starter will be engaged, and a list of stake events that will surprise the entire count

Associated Cycling Clubs Will Meet This Evening to Begin Work. One of the most important meetings of the Associated Cycling Clubs will be held this ening at the South Side Cycle Club, when evening at the South Side Cycle Club, when the subject of the second annual autumn cycle show will be discussed.

The success of last year encouraged the A. A. C. to plan a more extensive exhibit this year, and it is not improbable that a four days show will be arranged in a hall that will be large enough to hold all. A committee of the local Cycle Board of Trade will be present to offer suggestions.

THE NEW PLAYERS. Minor League Men Who Have Been

Drafted for 1896. WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.-Nick E. Young President and Secretary of the National Base Ball League, is engaged in negotiating for the transfer of a number of minor league players to the clubs of the National League, under the rules permitting this to be done upon the payment of $500 to the minor club as soon as the player signs a League contract.

minor club as soon as the player signs a League contract.

The list of the men thus far drafted for the season of 1896 includes the following: Hulen of Minneapolls, with Philadelphia; Yorrick of the Western League, with Boston: McCormick of New Orleans, with Chicago; Harper of Rochester, with Brooklyn: Delehanty of Atlanta and Sheron of Buffalo, with Cleveland; Minahan, Morrison and MacFarland, with Louisville; and Joe Goar of Toledo, with Pittaburg.

Cincinnati bought Irwin from St. Paul before the season closed rather than take the chances of losing him. Boston did likewise and New York made a similar deal for Connaughton, as did St. Louis for the services of Meyers of Nashville.

Neville a Liar.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. &—Prince Yturbide of. Mexico and Robert Neville of Washington and New York cannot be found here, and it is thought they have left the city to avoid arrest and fight a duel, as the law in the District of Columbia against dueling is severe. No attempt has been made to discredit the report of the awkward affair. Yturbide called Neville a liar at the Metropolitan Club, and Neville, after a night's reflection, could not stand the mortification of the insuit A challenge to mortal combat was issued and accepted, and the question now is when and where will the fight come off? The Chief of Police has detailed detectives to make an investigation for the purpose of beginning criminal proceedings. The trouble will be to get witnesses. No one of standing, having knowledge of the subject, would think of testifying.

OCCUPATION OF TURKEY. The Powers Re-Open the Eastern Ques tion With a Vengeance. LONDON, Nov. 6.—Editorials in the m LONDON, Nov. 6.—Editorials in the morning papers dwell upon the gravity of the announcement from Rome that the powers had decided to take joint action in regard to Armenia. The Post (Conservative) says:

"The Ambassadors incurred a terrible responsibility and have hinted a threat that means nothing less than the occupation of Turkey. Is England prepared to acquiesce?"
The Graphic says it is re-opening the Eastern question with a vengeance. It leads the Russian occupation of Armenia.

The Daily News says: "It is the beginning of the end. The cabinet met yesterday and Lord Salisbury must necessarily have approved of this diplomatic stroke. Turkey is now within measurable distance of disruption and partition."

WHEN DEBS GETS OUT OF JAIL.

The Strike on the Great Northern All Depends on Him.

SO LABOR LEADERS ASSERT.

CHICAGO, Ill., Nov. 6 .- A local paper

When Debs gets out of jail it will be de-Great Northern railroad. According to the leaders of the city, it all depends on They said they did not expect any Great Northern men went out, and so far as strike to be ordered immediately unless the Great Northern men went out, and so far as they were advised no action had been taken by the employes on the question of a strike. "We will wait till Debs is out of jail," said one of the talkers. "and see what he has to say about it after his reception. It will be a big one, and not be confined to Chicago. A. R. U. men from all over the country will take part in it."

William E. Burns of the A. R. U. directory was in consultation with local labor men nearly all the day and evening. It is understood they were arranging to have sister cities notified of the arrangements for the Debs reception and to have the members of the order advised as to what action might be expected in case a strike is ordered on the Northern line.

That the Great Northern railroad is expecting a strike of its employes is shown by its agents in this city recruiting a number of men. A force of 500 men is held in readiness here to move on short notice. Numbers of the recruits said they had been told to report for leaving the city last night and this morning. Some had been told they would go to Salt Lake City.

Mr. Jewitt, who was the chief functionary in charge, said the public would learn developments as soon as there was anything to be given out. Other roads claim to be taking no concern in the situation. General Agent Fogarty of the Northern Pacific said his road expected no trouble with its eming no concern in the situation. Genera Agent Fogarty of the Northern Pacific said his road expected no trouble with its employes either for cause or sympathy.

Officials of the Chicago & Northwestern the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul and other roads tributary to the Great Northern declared there was no chance for disaffection of their men if a general strike did not ensue in the Northwest.

Coming of the Adult.

Secretary of State Lesueur, the other alleged emissary of the compromisers, had not put in an appearance around the political resorts up to noon, though he is supposed to be in the city and will show up at to-night's conference, which is to be held for the avowed purpose of inducing Chairman Marfitt to issue an early call for a meeting of the State Committee, with the understanding that the Pertie Springs convention is to be ignored in the matter of the time of holding the State convention for the selection of delegates to the National convention. A resolution adopted at Pertie Springs fixed the date of the convention for April 15. As explained by the Post-Dispatch yesterday, the scheme of the perties on the penalty of refusal to recognize the nineteen new members of the State Committee, this convention to the latest possible date preceding the national convention.

Who will attend to-night's caucus except Francis, Maffitt, Selbert and Lesueur nobody seems to know.

and are preparing to checkmate the season Maffitt obstructionists at every turn. Messrs. Seibert and Lesueur attended that meeting, too, and are presumed to bear to St. Louis the ultimatum of those who will insist to the end upon holding the party to the lines laid down at Pertie Springs in August. Others who were there were Maj. Harvey W. Salmon and Sam B. Cook, old members of the committee; J. S. Gosshart of Lafsyette County; J. C. Brown, Ray County; M. A. Fyke, Kansas City; John L. Christian, Atchison County; E. G. Mann, Dade County; Chas. W. Green, Linn County; M. E. Benton, Newton County; G. S. Has, Vernon County, and E. A. Barbour, Green County. All the latter named are new members of the committee. It is said that those who participated in the Kansas City conference authorized Messrs. Seibert and Lessaur to say to those who attend the caucus in St. Louis to-night that they were for peace and harmony, but only on the lines of the Pertie Springs convention and under no circumstances would they entertain a proposition for a postponement of the convention for the election of delegates to the National Convention later than the date prescribed at Pertie Springs, which was April 18.

Hon. J. W. Farris, who is also at the Lacede from Lebanon, said: "I am thoroughtired of fooling, and as a member of the ate Committee I shall insist upon an imediate call for a meeting. There is nothing to compromise or harmonise. The last tate Convention at Pertle Springs defined up duties clearly and explicitly, and it is our duties clearly and explicitly, and it is high time we were beginning their performance. Everybody in the way must get out. If when the State Committee meets Chairman Mamitt and Secretary Zevely attend and show a willingness to perform their duty, I am is favor of ietting them alone. But if they attempt to obstruct our proceedings in any way then I'm in favor of turning them out and putting in their places men in whom the party has confidence. I don't know yet when the call will be issued for a meeting of the State Committee, but I believe the Post-Dispatch can safely assert that the meeting will be held within the next two weeks."

Henry Alterman Gave It to Neighbors as Well as His Pupils.

Knowledge is power, but that won't excuse Henry Alterman, a Jewish teacher, for assaulting Miss Annie Wexelmann.

cuse Henry Alterman, a Jewish teacher, for assaulting Miss Annie Wexelmann.

Alterman teaches school and lives with his family in a room at 1116 North Eighth street. Miss Annie's room is across the hall. She objected to the daily hum of the school children and Alterman to show his regard for her feelings kicked over a bucket of milk Wednesday morning which stood in front of the young woman's door. She went to him to get an explanation and he attacked her with a strap. Now he is charged in a warrant with assault and battery.

Alterman is nearly 80 years of age, and he claims that he struck Miss Wexelmann to make her stop beating his wife. The trouble began last Monday. One of Alterman's pupils touched Miss Wexelmann's clothes line in the yard, and she threw a rock at him," said the professor. Then she went to to the professor's wife, and, it is claimed, broke a clothes prop over her head. Mr. Alterman has the broken clothes prop and he said he will produce it as evidence. His wife's head is swollen twice its natural size and Alterman claims she has a fractured skull. He said that he intended to prosecute, but that he didn't have any money.

"My wife called at the Police Court on Biddle and Broadway, as sick as she was, and somebody told her she must pay 8 to get a summons out. We only had 11 between us, and I telt he case drop."

The got her warrant because she's rich. She lives upstairs and has peddiers selling goods for her. But I have five children, my twenty pupils, twelve neighbors and my wife to testify for as in the case."

The Alterman School is a room about 12x5 feet, which furnishes sleeping, cooking and eating apartment for the Alterman family, when not occupied by the scholars. The tuition fee is 10 cents a week, per head.

In the Federal Courts.

Greeley Miller and Newton Adams, mischievous country boys, were before Judge Adams in the United States court Wednesday on the charge of making and passing counterfeit nickels. They pleaded guilty and their fathers and District Attorney Clopton asked Judge Adams to be lenient with them, as the lads have already been in jail four months.

Their pulshment was a fine of $1,000 and imprisonment for four months, dated back so as to end wish date. The fine was stayed, Judge Adams then warned the boys that If ever they got into trouble again the II.00 fine would be entored against the II.00 fine would be entored against them and they would be returned to jail.

JUST WHAT HE ANTICIPATED

Bland Blames Cleveland for the Democratic Backset-

FREE SILVER IS THE ISSUE.

The Administration and Its Financia Policy Has Now Been Effectively Repudiated by the Party.

Not defeat, but splendid encoura Mr. Bland was interviewed early Wednes-day morning by a Post-Dispatch reporter on the significance of the struggle of Tues-of the administration, and for that reason a defeat of gold monomestallism.

"The victory is Kentucky and the victory in Mississippi are the only victories achieved by the Democrats yesterday, and these two States are the only ones in which the campaign was made for free silver by the Democrats. The only thing that saved Kentucky, if the State, is saved at all, was Hardin's repudiation of the convention platform and declaration in favor of free silver. He would have been overwhelmingly defeated had he indorsed the Administration."

"Do you consider that yesterday's results will hush the talk of a third term."

"If there were no opposition to another term for Mr. Cleveland, growing out of the traditional dissilies to third terms, his record would lose for him every state in the Union. That is as much of an answer to your question as I care to give. I have nothing more to say on that subject.

"Besides the part played in the result by the antagonism of the Democratic platforms to free silver, there was no general election, and few county elections to bring out the Democratic vote. The Republicans used money to poil their strength."

"Do you believe that your view of the result will be generally accepted?"
"That the only hope of the Democratic party is to take up free silver. I believe will be recognized by the whole country. If the Democratic party will stand against the administration it will win. As for the results of yesterday containing anything of discouragement for the masses of the free silver advocates, the friends of free silver will never throw up the sponge."

On the subject of the apparent defeat of Mr. Lane for Congress by Hadley, Republican, in the Eighteenth Illinois District, Mr. Bland said: "I am not surprised at that, either. During the tour I made of the Eighteenth District for Mr. Lane, I saw that the party had no organization whatever and the murmurings of discontent at the way things have been going at Washington only confirmed my suspicions that the Democrats were so disgusted with Cleveland and Carlisle that they were not going to vote. Mr. Lane made a splendid fight, weighted down as he was with all the shortcomings of the administration, and he deserves well-of the party in future."

JUDGE PEABODY.

Police Court Magistrate Scored by the Lawyers.

There never has been such widespread disgust with the action of a court in St. Louis as is manifested over the dismissal by Judge Peabody of the case against ex-Fireman William Barnett, charged with Fireman William Barnett, charged with the brutal beating of Mrs. Jennie Harmon, a poor, weak-minded, feeble woman. The Judge is being roundly cansured by lawyers about the Four Courts.

Barnett is a powerful, brutal fellow, who, up to a few days after he beat this defenseless woman and dragged her about the streets by the hair, was somember of Engine Co. No. 28. When the case was brought to the notice of Chief Swingley he at once ordered an investigation. Assistant Chief Hillenkoetter saw all of the witnesses to the assault, and after carefully sifting their testimony reported his finding to the Chief. The result was the immediate dismissal of Barnett from the Fire Department.

missal of Barnett from the Fire Department.

In the face of these facts Barnett was dismissed by Judge Peabody when his case came to trial in the First District Police of the capacity of an attorney for the defense rather than as the presiding Judge, and augmented the functions of the former by exercising his powerful prerogative as Judge in refusing to hear the testimony of the witnesses for the prosecution. It is claimed by the Judge that a case could not be made; yet, the testimony of the same witnesses was so positive and damaging that Chief Swingley found Barnett guilty and immediately dismissed him from the force.

City Attorney Clover positively states that was likely to prejudice Barnett's case."

It might be interesting to know what Chief Swingley thinks of Peabody and Peabody's court.
"How could Chief Swingley arrive at such an entirely different verdict? To his mind Barnett is guilty of a brutal assault, while you find him not guilty and dismiss the case," continued the reporter.

"He must have listened to people whose sympathies carried them away. There has been a great deal of sympathy wasted on this woman."
"What explanation have you to make for hear more, that is done."

"Didn't you refuse to hear any more of the city's witnesses?"

"No. I only stopped them to give the other side a hearing. If City Attorney Clover had not been satisfied and had wanted to swear any more witnesses he could have done so."

"Ton think he was not displeased, then? How about the affidavit for an appeal to the higher court?"

"Oh, I don't think he is displeased. I don't believe he will appeal the case. It is necessary to file an affidavit on the day a verdict is rendered. Then they have ten days to give an appeal bond. The affidavit is made merely so that an appeal can be taken if the party is not satisfied with the decision of the court."

"They say that certain parties have a pull in your court and that Barnett was dismissed on that account."

"I know that has been charged and I was surprised to see the statement the print. Nobody has a pull with me. I can't send everybody to the Work-house and have to use a great deal of discretion. In this case I heard no evidence that led me to believe Barnett guilty. I believed the testimony of the most reputable party. I never saw Barnet before in my life and was not governed by religion, nationality or color."

"UNKNOWN, FOUND DEAD."

Ceroner Loerper's Usual Verdict Disposes of a South End Mystery.

Mystery surrounds the finding of the body of an unknown man near the Government powder magazine at Jefferson Barracks

There was a suspicion of suicide, but little evidence; not enough to identify the body. Yet, without further ado, the body was buried, marked "Unknown; found dead."

The deceased was about 40 years of age, had light hair and a sandy mustache; wore a neat suit of black ciothes and slouch hat, and weighed about 175 pounds. He was a well-built man, and in life must have been a strong, able fellow.

In his pockets was found a piece of wallpaper, on one side of which was written in German the name of Mrs. Lubert of 229 Market street and Herman Touissant of Baden, Germany.

The body lay in a cramped position in a clump of trees in the woods near the powder magazine. George Reaves of St. Louis County was driving along the road and was attracted to the spot 1/2 his dogs. He informed Justice Noerper of Luxembourg Township, who came over to Ivory Station and held an inquest.

There were no marks of violence on the body. The features were drawn as though the deceased had died in great pain. Some one suggested that an autopsy be held, but it was not done. There was a suspicion of suicide, but little it was not done.

At 2209 Market street no one named Lupert could be found and no one by that name has lived there for several years past.
